

PROJECT PITBULL

Community Embraced DeFi Project

What is Pitbull?

Pitbull is initially ``a meme`` token which turned into ``a widely embraced community project`` in a short while after it's initial launch on 17 March, 2021. Pitbull is a decentralized, 100% community driven project which has continued to enjoy organic growth on a daily basis. It has become more than a meme for its investors and community as everyone finds a reason to remain integrated into the Community. The project is currently being built and improved upon by the community and volunteers with various skills. Each member of the community contributes on project by dedicating their talents and strengths owing to their various fields and professions. From designers, technical & software engineers, front-end/full-stack developers, web designers to language translators, social media contributors, writers, followers, data analysts and so on. People of different ethnics and religions from `Worldwide` have been able to interact randomly, network and be creative together by developing a formidable community with solid milestones in the age of Social Blockchain Era.

Technical Details & Tokenomics

Pitbull is residing on Binance Smart Chain and Pitbull's Token ticker is "$PIT" in short. PIT's certified contract details can be found on the BscScan database with a total supply which was initially 100,000,000,000,000,000. The developer relinquished the ownership of the project and burnt %50 of the total supply. Initial liquidity pool was burnt, whereas 2% of each transaction will be going to the liquidity pool and the other 2% will be distributed to Pitbull holders. This process further reduces the available supply of the $PIT token while enhancing it's appreciated value.

Security by PITBULL

As half of total supply has been burnt into a dead address in the beginning and the liquidity pool has been burnt, it is impossible to modify Pitbull's contract for further changes. PITbull is a totally safe community driven project which has been declared rugproof by various auditors:

Result of the audit from Techrate: (audit report is available on: techrates.com and our platforms)

No high severity and security issues

No medium severity issues

No low severity issues – No Owner Privileges

March 2021

With a developing community, team has recently registered and created a multi-sig account wallet which requires multiple owners of the wallet to approve any transaction and changes. All donations and funds will be kept in Gnosis multi-sig wallets. PITs and funds will be kept safe within the community members.

Unique sides of Pitbull Tokenomics

Pitbull was initially abandoned by the original developer and PITBULL's initial liquidity is locked forever within the smart contract. As the developer relinquished control of the project, a dedicated community consisting of members, investors, and a volunteer team does not have allocation.

Since Pitbull was released by burning liquidity, there was no presale of any kind, hence a fair launch. PITBULL's circulating supply is organically being hodled by investors in an equal size which makes it more particular project than others. In other words, terms such as "minting new tokens by team, allocations, presale and rug-pull" have been burned in a black hole with 50% of total supply.

- 2% fee auto add to the liquidity pool to be locked forever after any transaction
- 2% fee auto distribute to all current holders
- 50% of total supply burnt in a black hole prior to release
- Total supply is 100,000,000,000,000,000 PIT
- 500,000,000,000,000 PIT is maximum limit per trade

Auto-Staking Reward in your wallet: A pleasant reason to buy and hold PIT

With the contract, Pitbull holders is getting 2% of each transaction over the Pitbull Token by other investors. Without staking or farming on other platforms, it is unique and easy to get a quite big percentage to your wallet as reward. Only investing and holding PIT will provide more tokens as the transaction gets higher by time.

"To see growing numbers of PIT balance in your wallet just by holding is priceless."
